Mary McClure Retires from Rockwall Area Habitat for Humanity Board After 10+ Years of Service

ROCKWALL, TEXAS, March 12, 2009—The Rockwall Area Habitat for Humanity (RAHFH) announced Mary McClure has retired her board seat after serving in numerous capacities during more than 10 years of service to the nonprofit organization.

“For more than a decade, Mary McClure’s dedication to Habitat has been unwavering and is an inspiration to all of us who volunteer. On behalf of the board and all of the families who received a Habitat home during her tenure, I express heartfelt gratitude to Mary,” said Jim Beebe, president of the Rockwall Area Habitat for Humanity.

RAHFH is currently constructing a home at 928 Joe Bailey Street in Royse City for the Culp Family. Volunteers, no experience necessary, are needed each Saturday from 8:00 a.m. until 3:00 p.m. For more information, or to get involved, please contact volunteer.coordinator@yahoo.com.

About Rockwall Area Habitat for Humanity

The RAHFH is a Christian housing ministry dedicated to building homes for families who might not otherwise afford one. The group constructs the homes by leveraging private donations and volunteer labor, then it sells each home at cost and provides zero interest financing for the approved family. Since its inception in 1994, the RAHFH has constructed 22 homes for area families. For more information, visit www.rockwallhabitat.org.
